The Truth.

Louis Landrum, editor of the Beaster Record, when he says: "The newspaper men of Kentucky," were never bound so closely together as now, and when their proposed warfare on cheap politicians and burr-tailed legislators begins, you may look for a rattling of dry bones, the like of which has never been witnessed. Instead of serving as the door mat of the community, as in former years, the newspaper men of Kentucky to day are the most independent set of professional men in the state. They think and act for themselves, and are led by the nose of no man or set of men."

PAPER TRUST.

Given to Unconditional Surrender by United States Government.

The United States Government decreed the unconditional surrender in the United States Circuit Court before Judge Sanborn of the paper trust, which largely controls the newspaper supply of this state against which the attorney General began a suit December 27, 1904, to dissolve the combination between the General Paper Company and twenty-three defendants, on the ground that an agreement had been entered into by the defendants in result of interstate commerce.

The defendants withdrew their pleas. Mr. Kellogg announced that the government did not care to examine witnesses and move for a decree in favor of the government. Judge Sanborn ordered a decree to be entered for the government for the relief prayer for which the decree should be set June 16.

It is probable that Caleb Powers, one of these days be legislated decent but according to law and hence he never can be, says an orange.

Little life may be sacrificed to an attack of croup, if you have Dr. Thomas' Electric Balm for the emergency.

It is into your head that a mixture of all kinds of eggs, you would not want to have a mixture of all kinds of cattle and hogs. The other feed more than breed that the hens lay.

We are never sure of the real life until we die.

HOW WE PAY THE PENALTY

A Suit Sale Without Precedent

Tomorrow we begin a period of sensational suit selling comprising values ranging from $15.00 to $75.00—startling reductions. This sale never could have happened if our store had been twice as large, and our city several times bigger. But, when we bought these fine suits, we didn't know when to stop. Now—we pay the penalty. We are going to clean up. Going to put such prices on our surplus stocks that you can't resist them. Going to make the price tags talk. Come in and listen to a most seductive story of bargain values in swell toggery. Just pretty as they can be, and a good deal cheaper than they ought to be. All newest styles, finest fabrics and most popular shades. Garments that are expertly tailored and beautifully fashioned and finished—and sacrificed during this clean-up sale at one-third off regular values. You can find good use for another suit at these prices. It would be folly to miss it. Plenty of choice including Ston, Pony and Bolero Effects—the season's choicest offerings. That suit you meant to buy and didn't. Get it tomorrow. Here are some tempting figures:

Lexington, Kentucky.

High Salaried Kentuckians.

A number of Kentucky Congressmen were talking in the lobby of the Riggs House at Washington about high salaried men from the Bluegrass State. "I presume," said Representative George Gilmore Gilbert, "that not one person in a hundred could guess who the highest salaried Kentuckians are. John M. Harlan and Dan McGinn each get $10,000 a year, and I presume they are the Kentuckians who draw the highest salaries paid men from our state. Harlan is the Nester of the Supreme Court and McGinn is the star in the baseball firmament."

Valuable.

An appraiser in the office of Judge W. G. Dearing, Collector of the port of Louisville, was called upon Monday to appraise one of the handsomest articles in the shape of a kimono that probably ever have been received there. The garment was sent from the Japanese of Panama to a woman in Ashland, through the mail, and had to be sent to Louisville for appraisal. The elegant Japanese piece of apparel was valued at $75, the duty on which was 60 per cent of its value. It is pink lined with purple on the garment is wrought a scalloped peacock and the sacred mountain of Japan.

THE DAMAGE DONE.

H. F. Hillemeier, of Lexington, who is an authority on such things, says of the damage done by the recent cold snap: "There is not much harm done. The small clover is safe. The corn is not seriously hurt; that not yet up will not rot. The tobacco plants may be a trifle scorched."

"The fruit is uppermost in the minds of the great laboring class, to which a small difference in price means so much. None of the tree fruits are in the least injured, nor the bush berries. The gooseberries, currants, raspberries and blackberries are unscathed. The strawberries are killed right in the middle. The early formed berries are safe. The blossoms got in the bud also."

"The expanded blossoms are partly killed. The crop may be large, it may be immense, but its measure depends on the weather of the next few days. The grapes are all right, just a trifle injured, but the grape is a Trojan, and bears its suffering like a hero, and always comes to time."

We hardly know what is lost; on its face, not much. If it stay dry, cold and windy, the final loss will be greater. If moist and warm, things now injured will pull through in safety. It is the last frost of the season. In a week we may count in safety the chickens not yet hatched. The bloom of the locust is full, the adage of the value of a 'dry May' is with us, May the heat of June turn on us the big end of the horn of plenty."

Don't Play With the Editor.

As a result of criticism of J. J. Peel by Louis Pilcher in the Kentucky Democrat, the men engaged in a fight at Nicholasville. Pilcher was worsted, and drawing a revolver shot Peel twice. He will probably die.

Many structures of antiquity testify most forcibly to the durability of concrete. That used in the construction of the pyramids of Egypt seems to have so hardened with age as to resist the penetration of stone drills. Natural stone, on the other hand, tends to disintegrate with the passing of the centuries.

Three Times Three is Thirty.

The largest tomato plants in the world are found in California. One grower has three plants which have reached a length of thirty feet.

In three months from the time the seeds were planted, says "What to Eat," they had climbed to the top of a twenty foot trellis. When they reached this remarkable height they grew backward until they attained a length of thirty feet.

They have no special care or cultivation and have had no protection from the weather; yet in spite of every disadvantage they kept on growing and fruiting in the most astonishing fashion.

The trunks are one and a half inches in diameter, the foliage thick and luxuriant. Enormous quantities of tomatoes have been picked from these three plants, and the fruit is of unusual size, possessing fine flavor.

One million of dollars is paid each quarter to 38,000 pensioners in Kentucky, an average of about 35 75 per capita.

For Poisoning Catworms.

Further experiments made at the Oklahoma Experiments station in poisoning cutworms, which have been working on wheat and alfalfa have shown the following mixture to be superior to spraying with paris green, as formerly recommended:

Thoroughly mix while dry one pound of paris green and fifty pounds of wheat bran, make moist but not sloppy, by adding water in which a quart of cheap molasses has been dissolved. Place this mixture in spoonful piles where the worms are working. It attacks the worms from the wheat and oats. It is also good grasshopper poison.

State Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland has issued his monthly report which shows the condition of the wheat crop is 97 per cent, as compared to last year; corn acreage 99 per cent of crop planted May 1, 44; tobacco, condition of plant beds May 1, 85; yield of barley last year, as compared to 1904, is 104; fruit, peaches 79 per cent; other fruits, 88.

Senator Bailey After the President.

In the Senate Senator Bailey charged that the Executive had surrendered his position advocating an "effective measure," and had abandoned his demands for tariff revision. The Texas Senator charged that the Presidents' arrangement of trusts had been made after his election and that before that time he had been as "silent as the grave" on the subject of regulating the railroads.

Will Stay on Duty.

Vice President Fairbanks will not leave Washington until after the Railroad Rate bill is disposed of, although he expected in Birmingham to attend the Methodist Conference. Having presided in the Senate continuously since the debate on the bill began he will continue until it is passed.

Odd Fellows.

The Kentucky grand encampment of Odd Fellows met with Paris last Wednesday. Watson lodge number 32 was represented by Grand Master J. L. Brawner, J. W. Groves and Fred Senieur.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Judge John C. Cooper, of the county of Montgomery, a candidate for Congress subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Judge H. C. McKee as a candidate for Congress in the 1st District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce A. F. Byrd, of Winchester, Clark county, a candidate for Congress in the 1st District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Contentment comes from work well done.

Let the boss be what he may his wages demand an honest return. To give him less is theft.

This office has just turned out a very beautiful pamphlet for the Mt. Sterling National Bank. If you haven't one write to the bank for one. You would appreciate it.

WORTH WHILE.

The Prison Commissioners have contracted for the employment of 650 convicts for a period of eight years, making for the State in clean cut cash for the period right at $800,000. This is what the "machine" is doing for the people. Such a machine is really worth while.

A FAIR TRIAL.

Partisan Republicans are beginning to speculate on an unfair trial; that the jury will be fixed and such bosh.

We are of the opinion Powers will receive a just verdict in Scott county. That the decision of the jury will be in accord with the law and evidence.

PRIMARY ON ELECTION DAY.

To the Committee whose duty it is to select time and manner of holding a primary we offer this suggestion: That a primary election be the manner of choosing and that the time be fixed on regular election day in November, and at this time and by this manner we select a candidate for U. S. Senator and at the same time name a State ticket. From now until November would be ample time for all candidates to get before the people. To hold a Democratic primary on regular election day would create interest and bring out a full Democratic vote thereby swelling the Democratic majorities. This most certainly is good politics and just as well.

Some candidates might think the time short in which to make a personal canvass and that such a suggestion would be in the interest of the State Press. It is true the press is the only avenue by which the people can be reached, but what the press desires is what is best for all concerned. It would not bring hardship to any candidate, and if quickly settled there would be time for the healing of all disappointments.

We give these hints believing their adoption would not entail much expense and burden to any candidate.

The Court of Appeals has decided that an election so held is legal and all doubts removed we feel sure the people who do the deciding and who are adverse to many elections would favor our suggestion.

The C & O will run an excursion to Louisville, Ky., and return, Sunday, June 3rd, $1.50 round trip, leaving Mt. Sterling, 7:12 a.m., and returning leave Louisville at 9:00 p.m.

Devotion.

"You are always talking about the expense of operating an automobile," we say to Mr. Penbecker. "It's a wonder you wouldn't dispose of the machine."

"Say," he explains, with a desperate air, "the only reason I have one of these fool machines is that my wife thinks she looks well in an auto veil."—Seattle Post Intelligence.

One on Him.

He—"Don't bother me about that bonnet this morning, Jane; I've got the blues."

She—"Ah, so you have got what you wanted?"

"Why, what do you mean?"
"Well, you rolled over in your sleep last night, and said: 'Gimme a stack of blues.'—Town and Country.

QUEEN'S GIFT DID NO GOOD

Child's Reward for Industry Appreciated by Her Heartless Relatives.

There are many stories told of the queen of Italy's act of kindness to her poor subjects. The following, however, shows that even the good intentions of queens are not always fulfilled. Her majesty recently noticed a pleasant-faced little girl and the queen spoke to her. There was a short conversation, and the queen asked the child what she could do in the way of need-work. "I can knit stockings, signora," replied the girl. "Do you know who I am?" continued the queen. "Yes, signora; you are the queen." Well, then, make me a pair of stockings and send them to the palace."

A few days afterward the articles arrived and the queen, in return for the gift, sent the child a beautiful pair of silk stockings, one filled with sweets, the other containing money. Next day the queen received a letter from her little friend, as follows: "Signora, your gift has caused me many tears. My father took the money, my big brother took the sweets, and as for the stockings, my mother took them for her—"

Feather Fact.

An ostrich feather, if held upright, will be seen to be perfectly equal on both sides, the stem dividing it exactly in the center. In other feathers the stems are found to be more or less on one side.

Cruel Threat.

"Isn't it too bad that all the young men are so fast nowadays?"

"What's the matter, dear, couldn't you catch one?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Live Without Water.

Patagonian llamas live for years without tasting water; and a breed of cows near Losere, France, and noted for the richness of the milk takes it very rarely.

DENVER'S FIRST STAGE.

On the 17th of May, 1859, the first through coach of what was destined to grow into the "Overland Mail," an enterprise, says "Outing Magazine," which for sheer American pluck and daring must be forever linked with the fame of the "pony express."

Red shirts drifted to the outskirts of the hamlet and dotted the hills around. Hard-faced bartenders made ready for the "hottest night that ever tore the camp loose." The artillery of holster and saddle-boot was numbered for an ecstatic fusillade. There was lively betting in due and suggests that the first through stage had been gathered in by Indians, with takers as eager to stake their faith that the scalps of driver and guard would come through intact.

At length a swirl of dust showed far down the trail. It grew into a yellow cloud that swept toward the eager hamlet. Then six mules stretched out on the gallop emerged from this curtain, and behind them was the lumbering, swaying stage, come safely through on time, and Denver was in touch with the world where men wore white shirts and lived in real houses. The cheers that roared a welcome to this heroic enterprise were echoed in every western town which hoped and longed for a link of its own with the home country "way back east."

Elevated Road Range in Air. To relieve the congested traffic conditions in Berlin, Germany, it is proposed to erect a monorail suspended electric railway, such as has been for some time in successful operation between Eberfeld and Bremen, Germany, writes Dr. Alfred Gradenwitz in Technical World Magazine. The passenger cars in this system hang from a single overhead rail and move on support whatever underneath. Advantages of the system are its perfect safety, the fact that the superstructure is comparatively simple and does not shut out the light or air as does an ordinary elevated structure, and the further fact that in operation the monorail cars are almost completely noiseless. It seems probable that the monorail suspended system will be adopted in the German capital.

Foretold by a Stone.

There exists a stone which is said to unfailingly foretell changes in the weather. This stone was found in Finland many years ago by an explorer, and has since been watched by scientists with great interest. It presents a white, mottled appearance in sunshine, gradually turning from gray to black as a rainstorm approaches. The stone is composed of clay, silt, and rock salt. In dry weather the salt in the stone is prominent, but when the air is filled with moisture the salt absorbs the moisture and turns black, thus forming the "barometer."

Singing Is Beneficial.

It is asserted that singing is a corrective of the too common tendency to lung complaint. An eminent physician has observed that Germans are seldom afflicted with consumption, and this he partly attributes to the strength that their lungs acquire by exercise in vocal music, which constitutes an essential branch of their education.

Towards the West.

Great cities almost invariably grow towards the west. One explanation of this, so far as Europe is concerned, is that the prevailing winds are from the west and southwest, so that these portions of the towns are brighter, cleaner and healthier than the eastern.

Modern Catacombs.

The new Roman Catholic church at Dover is partly excavated from the cliffs, and its scheme of decoration is an exact copy in design and coloring of the Catacombs at Rome.

VINOL'S RELIABILITY

Countless physicians and druggists are now prescribing and endorsing Vinol as the most valuable cod liver preparation known to medicine and it is fast superseding all other forms of cod liver oil.

A prominent physician writes: "I am satisfied that Vinol derives its wonderful life giving and strength creating power from the medicinal curative elements found in the cod's liver. It is the best strength creating creator and vitalizer for old people, weak women, children, and the convalescent that I ever saw."

Another physician writes: "I could cite many cases where health has been restored in a surprisingly short time by Vinol. I should be very sorry to have to do without Vinol in my practice. It has no equal for hard colds, throat and bronchial troubles." Now, when we tell you that we have never sold in our store a remedy of such remarkable curative and strength creating power as Vinol, and that it is a fact, we can only say what we say. It is a fact, and will reward your money. A young man, not ailing person should hesitate to try Vinol with such an understanding.

In cases where cod liver oil causes what we call "fishy" feelings and other nervous failures, and all is grass. Will sell for $12,000. Apply to J. W. Young, Jr., or J. W. Young, Jr., or J. W. Young, Jr.

Entertainment.

The Southern Presbyterian Church has completed arrangements with the Mistletoe Lyceum Co., of New York, for the Spectacular production of "ACEVRA", the play being based on the Famous Four, by Rogers. This production has pleased large audience recently, in the surrounding cities and as the electrical effects are gorgeous, this will be the "best home talent entertainment ever given" in this city. Fully 200 home people form the cast. See papers for date later.

LAND STOCK AND CROP

William Ewing has sold his farm of 100 acres to ———— Clock for $3,000, and Mr. Ewing has bought a farm in Clark county of 75 acres for $4,800.

James Patrick sold his cement farm containing about 700 acres at a price somewhere between $65,000 and $100,000. Mr. Patrick purchased of Robert Blackburn, his plat of land adjoining Stanton, containing five acres for $1800. Mr. Blackburn then purchased Charlie Spencers' home containing ten acres for $1800, and Mr. Spencer bought a lot in Winchester and is building a residence on it.

Nick Hadden Jr. has had some experience in killing rats. A neighbor came to his barn with a dog. They killed 212 rats, a bushel and a half. If the hunt had been on Monday the number might have been much larger.

We request all persons who expect to return to their former homes in Montgomery county to inform their relatives and friends through the Advocate.

WHAT TUSKEGEE IS DOING.

Splendid Progress Made in the Educational Institution for Colored People.

Tuskegee institute was opened July 4, 1881, with one teacher and 30 pupils. At that time, writes Booker T. Washington, in World's Work, it had neither land nor buildings, nothing but the $2,000 a year granted by the Alabama legislature. Even the dilapidated shanty and the old church in which its first sessions were conducted were lent by the colored people of the village.

It was not long, however, before the school acquired a small tract of land. The first piece of live stock which it became possessed of was an old blind mule, the gift of a white man in the neighborhood. This represented the capital of the school.

At the close of the school year last May it owned 2,000 acres of land, 83 buildings, large and small, used as dwellings, dormitories, classrooms, shops and barns, which, together with the equipment, live stock, stock in trade and other personal property, were valued at $831,893.32. This does not include 22,000 acres of public land remaining unsold from the 25,000 granted by congress valued at $135,000, nor the endowment fund, which amounted January 1, 1906, to $1,275,664.

SPRING WINES ARE MADE.

Family Brews That Are Prepared from Various Vegetable Growths.

Homemade wines will be turned out busily as long as the spring lasts. Dandelion wine, birch wine, coltsfoot wine, ginger and clover and poppy, and a dozen other wines will be made this spring by many a housewife, after a recipe handed down in her family for generations.

There is an incredible number of these wholesome and pure homemade wines. Every state, in fact, is renowned for some wine that is never sold on the market, that can only be obtained in the cellars of old-fashioned houses.

Among these famous brews are ginger wine, green ginger wine, sage wine, turnip wine, marigold wine, gooseberry wine, cowslip, blackberry, damson, poppy, halm, parsnip and elder flower wine. All are heavily consumed in the spring, it being thought that they purify the blood.

Largest Leaves in the World.

The largest leaves of bread baked in the world are those of France and Italy. The "pipe" bread of Italy is baked in loaves two feet or three feet long, while in France the loaves are made in the shape of very long rolls four feet in length, and in many cases even six feet. The bread of Paris is distributed almost exclusively by women, who go to the various bakeries at 5:30 a. m. and spend about an hour polishing up the loaves. After the loaves are thoroughly cleaned of dust and grit, the "bread porter" proceeds on the round of her customers. Those who live in apartments or flats find their loaves leaning against the door.

Ireland's New Great Seal.

The new great seal of Ireland is distinguishable from the English emblem in a very small particular only. This is that in the conventional border beneath the table a crowned harp is substituted for a trident. It is also an interesting fact that the new seals are struck in silver in the large medal press at the mint—a method never before attempted—and that the seal and counter seal of Ireland received no fewer than 793 blows before they were perfected.

Insect Postmen.

Bees are capable of being trained as letter carriers. The insect is taken away from home, a letter printed in microphotography is attached to his back, and he is thrown into the air. The advantages he would have over a carrier pigeon in time of war are obvious.

Cheapest in the World.

Postage is cheap in all countries in these days, but in none, perhaps, quite so cheap as in Japan. A letter can be sent from one end to the other of the land of the Rising Sun for the fee of two sen, equal to about the fourth of a farthing.

IMMENSE SALT PONDS.

Water from Great Salt Lake Furnishes Material of a Valuable Industry.

One of the remarkable sights of the Great Salt Lake, of Utah, developed by the progress of scientific industry, is the system of immense salt-making ponds on the shore of the lake. At Saltair, the lake water is pumped into a great settling basin, where the impurities fall to the bottom, and containing much iron, form a red dish deposit. From this basin the water is drawn off into "settling ponds," averaging 90,000 square yards in area, and six inches in depth.

The ponds are kept supplied with water, as the evaporation goes on from May to September, when the salt harvest begins. The water having disappeared, a dazzling layer of salt, two or three inches thick, is found covering the bottom of the ponds, and this is broken up with plows before being conveyed to the mills, where the final crushing and winnowing are done.

From Wheat to Bread.

A record for converting grain into bread has been established by a Canadian farmer. Wheat which was in the sheaf at three o'clock in the afternoon was made into scones before six. When operations began a wagon stood in the barn with about half a load of grain in the sheaf. Beside it was a threshing machine, and the grain was deposited in a bin. The power then was transferred to the cleaner, and the work of changing the newly-threshed wheat into flour was quickly carried through. The rest of the task was easy.

Valuable Find of Royal Treasure.

The director of the treasury of Rio de Janeiro, while hunting for some lost papers, has made an astonishing discovery. A box which had not apparently been disturbed for many years was found to contain gold, silver and diamonds to the value of at least £140,000. Among the valuables recovered are the imperial crown and scepter of Brazil, valued at £21,000, and the imperial mantle bordered with gold. The box in which the treasure was found is believed to have been deposited in the treasury since 1836.

Horses Checked.

Every horse in the British army is numbered and has a little record kept. The number is branded upon the animal's hind feet—the thousands on the near hind foot and the units, tens and hundreds on the off hind foot. Thus the horse, whose number is, say, 8,354, will have an 8 on his left hind foot and 354 on the other one. On what is called his "Veterinary History Sheet" everything about the horse is entered from time to time.

Bride from the Dock.

The police court at Westmount, Quebec, was the scene of a charming romance. A pretty young Swede, was about to be sentenced to imprisonment for theft, when William Brown, a youthful Canadian, proposed to her in a loud voice, and offered, if her sentence were remitted, to marry her as soon as a license and a minister could be found. The girl left the building a happy bride instead of a convicted felon.

Affected by Altitude.

Generally speaking, races living at high altitudes have weaker and more highly-pitched voices than those living in regions where the supply of oxygen is more plentiful. Thus, in America, among the Indians living on the plateaus at an elevation of from 10,000 to 14,000 feet, the men have voices like women and women like children, and their singing is a shrill monotone.

Immunity from Gout.

Gout is rarely known among the working classes of Ireland. Their immunity from this complaint is thought to be due to the fact that their food consists largely of potatoes.

Dr. Gunn's Blood and Nerve Tonic

There is not a woman in this land but at some time in her life would have been better for the use of this Tonic. For diseases peculiar to women a better remedy is not made. It enters the circulation, building up the tissues that have wasted, making pure, rich blood. For weak, nervous people, pimply, pale or fleshless people, it will make strong steady nerves, clear the complexion and produce good, solid flesh. Druggist sell it for 75 cents per box. To be taken after meals, 42-5.

Like a Lamp.

A certain gentleman was surprised a few evenings ago when his wife named an expensive lamp after him. He was more surprised at her reason for doing so. "Well," you know dear, it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at; requires considerable attention, it is remarkably brilliant, it is sometimes unsteady; liable to explode when only half full; flares up occasionally; it is always out at bedtime, and is bound to smoke."

Total and Final Banishment of Evil.

There is but one way to deal with an unquestioned evil—its "total and final banishment," as suggested by the clear mind, fearless soul and great heart of Lincoln when he said at Springfield in 1842: "Whether or not the world would be vastly benefited by a TOTAL AND FINAL BANISHMENT from it of all intoxicating drinks seems to me not now an open question. Three-fourths of mankind profess the affirmative with their lips, and all the rest, I believe, acknowledge it in their hearts. Ought any, then, to refuse their aid in doing WHAT THE GOOD OF THE WHOLE DEMANDS?"

KEEP HOUSE IN A CHURCH

Eight Old Ladies Have Strange Residence in a Town in England.

The most curious almshouse in England, says the Church Eclectic, is St. Mary's hospital at Chichester. There eight old ladies live actually in the church, a fine old building dating from 1680.

It was originally a monastery, but Queen Elizabeth turned it into an almshouse to endure as long as the almshouse existed. The old ladies have two neat little rooms each, down the sides of the main church, with windows looking out on the garden.

They have each a coal supply, a kitchen range, water and gas. At a chapel daily services are held. The choir stalls are beautifully carved old oak, the original seats that the monks used.

Continental School Holidays.

The Russian schoolboys for the best time as regards holidays, for the education authorities allow four weeks in spring, five weeks in summer, a fortnight in autumn, and a fortnight in winter. In most other continental countries practically all the holidays are taken in the summer, only a very few days being granted for the New Year and Easter. In France the summer vacation lasts from August 1 to October 1; in Austria from July 15 to September 15; in Greece from August 1 to September 20; in Norway from July 5 to August 25; and in Turkey from the end of June to the middle of August.

Meaning of Empire.

Here is an eloquent picture of the empire in a few sentences. The king has in Asia more than 300,000,000 subjects; in America, 7,500,000; in Africa, about 43,000,000; in Australasia, over 5,000,000; and in Europe, over 42,000,000. Classifying them broadly by religions, there are 298,000,000 Hindus, 94,000,000 Mohammedans, 58,000,000 Christians, 12,000,000 Buddhists and 23,000,000 of various pagan or non-Christian religions.

Baby for Forty-Six Years.

The death has just occurred at Westbury workhouse, Wiltshire, England, of a 46-year-old baby. The child was born in Westbury, and at the age of 12 months its further development, both physically and mentally, was arrested. Throughout its life it was attired in baby's frock clothes, and continued to act and play and had to be fed and taken care of precisely as an infant.

MEETING AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

A series of meetings will begin at the Christian Church on Saturday night, June 2d, and continue for some weeks. These brothers have, by their plain and forceful preaching and sweet singing, persuaded many to turn to God. Remember the date, prepare for the meeting, work for it. We here introduce them to you by picture.

DANCE IN ANCIENT GREECE

More Acrobatic "Stunts" Looked Upon as Inferior by People of Olden Time.

A passage in Herodotus tells us with what contempt the Greeks treated mere acrobatic dancing, and how inferior it was considered to the highest art, says Marcelle Azra Hucks, in the Nineteenth Century. A certain Hippocleides having been asked to show one of the many accomplishments which entitled him to become the husband of the daughter of the tyrant of Sicyon, proceeded to display himself in the dance, and having commenced with a stately measure, he then wished to show his wonderful agility, and so well did he succeed that Cleisthenes, the tyrant, angrily exclaimed: "Son of Tisander, you have danced away your marriage," refusing to give a son-in-law who was so little of an artist that he could make a boast of his mere skill. Socrates, too, had great dislike to the "wonderful tricks" which dancers could perform with their bodies, and thought them very ugly. What would have been his disgust could he have seen some of our modern contortions—the high-kicking the skirt dance, the "split." As in all great art, the Greeks in their dancing made use of mechanical means only in so far as they could assist in carrying out the artist's inspiration. The true artist should not be hampered by any technical difficulties, he must be an absolute master of "technique," but never should he allow that "technique" to be the end and aim of his art; by doing so he forfeits all claim to the title of artist in the real and higher sense of that much abused word.

Looking, then, at the subject from this point of view, we can see the gulf which separates modern dancing from the Greek dancing. The modern term denotes something entirely mechanical, however pretty and pleasing our dancing masters contrive to make it by having rhythmical acrobatic feats performed by beautiful exponents. Dancing in the Greek sense, must be interpreted quite differently; it is rhythmical movement—and so far it is mechanical—but it is also pantomimic. It is the imitation of words by gestures; the bodily expression of a feeling.

How Experiments on Vegetables and Animal Life Have Proved That They May Be "Cooked" Cold.

That meat may be "cooked" by intense cold has been demonstrated by experiments with liquid air, says the Literary Digest. That a less degree of cold may produce the same effect on vegetables, and that freezing potatoes or fruit may make them more edible than before is asserted by Dr. Ephraim Cutter in the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette. Dr. Cutter says of a "frost-bitten" potato that he tested:

"It was shrunken soft, limp and elastic to the feel. It looked dark, as if rotten, and yet there was no dead and decaying odor. Under the microscope the starch grains were shrunken, cracked and fissured in the long and short diameters, wrinkled and polarized light beautifully. The form of polarization was not that of normal potato starch, difficult to be told in words. Besides, there were broken strands of connective fibrous tissue that looked as if rotten. The writer tasted of the said so-called 'rotten potato' and it was sweet in his mouth. He thinks they might be eaten with no harm."

Similar results were obtained with cranberries, onions and squashes. The frozen vegetables reacted, with copper sulphate, which is one of the tests for cooked food, but the fact that these starch grains polarized the light showed that there was a difference, as cooking by heat destroys the polarization.

WHERE PEASANTS ARE RICH
Despite Reports, Woman Writer Says,
Many Among Lower Russian
Class Are Well Off.

How recent history in Russia appears to a woman of the upper classes is told in a letter written by her from her home in Samara, eastern Russia. "If anyone would come to this district," she says, "the truth about the Russian peasantry might be learned. Here the peasants are rich, each having nine or more acres, with cattle in abundance. Workmen cannot be obtained; not on account of low wages, but because they are now free to drink upon every occasion." In Russia every laborer receives, besides his pay, food, heating, lodging and lighting; also fees in wood and straw; if he comes with his family to live on the estate extra food is given to him, according to the number of people.

"Last autumn, 1905, the doctors ordered us to take my mother to town; on our return we found the peasants had cut down all our best wood and sold it for money with which to buy drink. Admittedly, threats, persuasions were in vain. Now, how are we, many of us ladies, to guard our estates from being burned, thieves or pillaged? Only with Cossacks. But you must have means for this; those who have none get ruined. Cossacks only use their whips when all other expedients fail. Cossacks have been on some neighboring estates for eight months. We have not heard of one using a whip."

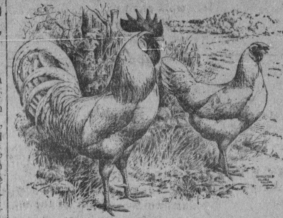

"On returning from town we were defamed by the political strike in Moscow. Every day we went out for hours, passing under the barricades, and witnessing how one fired at the soldiers from attics, behind gates, from a crowd and from windows. Never once did we see a soldier fire first. We had always time to get under shelter before the cannons fired. This is not the place to speak of what we have done for the peasants in the way of school, medicine, clothes and general help. Landed proprietors invariably do much; yet those who have done most have been the worst treated."

CHANGE IN JAP CHARACTER

Islanders Are No Longer "Playing to the Gallery"—Foreign Nations' Advice Unheeded.

For some decades past there has been, behind all the strenuous, honest effort to do the best for the country's sake, the desire to win the complete approval of the host nation. The desire which caused detractors of Japan to say that her humanity, her self-denial, her gallantry, all came under the hand of "playing to the galleries," says World's Work. The Japanese have been on probation ever since many of the present leading men were born.

The strange change in temper of American newspapers after the opening of the Portsmouth negotiations came as a shock to the devout believers in American friendship, a thing which all classes here hold in wise and tender regard. In other directions, too, the sudden cooling of kindness on the accession of respect has not gone unmarked. The Japanese are very sensitive in such matters, and they quite realize that in order to overcome a powerful foe and secure an illustrious alliance they have been obliged to risk some affect and pleasant friendships. This experience of one of the penalties of greatness has doubtless deepened the prevailing mood. Henceforth the Japanese will never ask what foreign nations think of him. He is taking the responsibility for his own standards. There is no longer any "gallery." All that matters in future is his estimate of himself.

FAST TRAVEL IN DREAMLAND

A flash of light is not sluggish, sound travels rapidly, a bullet is no messenger boy, and an automobile which shoots a mile in 28 seconds is moving along certainly. When it comes to getting over the ground in a real hurry, however, to devouring distance in dead earnest, the dreamer marches proudly at the head of the procession. He makes the latest thing in the line of 150-horsepower racing cars look like hay carts in a mud bank.

A man sits in his chair after dinner and dozes; he awakes with a start and discovers to his surprise that he lost consciousness for exactly three minutes by the clock.

Yet in those three minutes he journeyed from New York to Port Said, transferred himself to St. Petersburg, loitered in Paris and London and sailed up the Nile.

What is of greater importance in this connection, he journeyed leisurely, almost idly, he stopped at various "points of interest" and examined them thoroughly; he met with annoying and amusing experiences on steamships and trains; he talked with acquaintances whom he encountered in foreign lands and he told some of them precisely what he thought of them—there was genuine pleasure in that—Pittsburgh Courier.

DEATHS

LONG.—J. W. Long, of Winchester, died at his home in this city on last Sunday of consumption, aged 46 years. He leaves a mother, father, wife and one son to mourn his loss. Mr. Long was a son-in-law of Jas. F. Flynn, of this city. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. and K. P. Lodges and was buried by them.

EVERETT.—Mrs. Elizabeth Everett died at her residence in this city on Monday, May 21, 1906, at 11:30 p. m. On Monday, May 14, she was paralyzed, and with slight signs of recognition of friends remained practically unconscious until she sank peacefully to rest. She was a native of this county, the daughter of Wm. Ragan and wife, and was born August 6, 1836, being in her 70th year. She was married to Marcus (Mack) Everett on January 26, 1860. Her husband died about 14 years ago. They are survived by their children: Sam D. Everett, of Indian Territory, and Mrs. Nettie Wells, of Fort Worth, Texas, both of whom came immediately after notice of the sickness. Of her seven sisters, six are living: Mesdames Louise Patterson, Mary Reid, Frances Lytle and Laura Park, of California; Sarah Bridges and Anna Burchett, of this county. Many years ago she confessed her faith in Jesus as the Christ and was a member of the Christian church. She was a regular attendant in the Woman's Bible Class taught by B. W. Trimble. She had been absent only twice during the year. By her gracious manner, cheerful disposition and kindness she made many friends. She will be greatly missed. On the day preceding her sickness she was at the Church morning and evening, apparently in the best of health, with no intimation that life's work was so soon to close. The funeral service will be conducted this Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at her residence by Rev. H. D. Clark and the burial will be in Macphelah. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.

At a meeting of the Central Committee held on morning of May 17, 1906, it adjourned to meet on Saturday afternoon May 26th, at 3 o'clock in the Sabbath School room of the Christian Church. We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. Unless these are daily purified of the impure, poisonous contents are absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, nervousness, dizziness, and loss of appetite. The blood is then impure, and the system is diseased. It is only one pill at bedtime.
